

On October 17, 2017, at Pedagogical Institute of Borys Grinchenko Kyiv University, a practical English class of the course «Contemporary Practical English» for the second year students, speciality «Primary education», «Preschool education», «Design» was conducted with the participation of Lisa M. Blank, a professor of the University of Montana (USA), a participant of the Fulbright Exchange Program.

The objective of the class was to improve students' foreign language competences, enrich their knowledge about sport in both countries, pile-up the experience of intercultural communication and encourage students to learn foreign languages.

During the class the students took an active part in discussion, made a comparative analysis of Ukrainian and American youth's sports preferences.

Coordinators: Natalia Kosharna, the Head of the Foreign Languages and Methodology Department, PhD: Lada Petryk, senior lecturer of the Foreign Languages and Methodology Department, Olha Sytnyk, senior lecturer of the Foreign Languages and Methodology Department, Iryna Pluzhnyk, lecturer of the Foreign Languages and Methodology Department, Yuliia Rudnik, lecturer of the Foreign Languages and Methodology Department.