
The Scientific and Methodological Mentorship of City Pre-school Educational Establishments

On November, 21st, 2017, at the Desniansky city region pre-school educational establishment №771, O. Polovina and V. Vertuhina, lecturers of the Department of Pre-School Education of Pedagogical Institute of Kyiv Borys Grinchenko University, organised a scientific and methodological seminar «Preparation of pre-school teachers to realizing new educational projects». Participants of the seminar defined the priority task: implementation of project work into the educational process of Pre-school educational establishments to fulfill the new educational strategy «Education for Life». Moderators of the event discussed problems and peculiarities of implementation of educational projects in teaching pre-schoolers and showed opportunities of different kinds of arts (drawing, modelling, applique) to develop health, socio-cultural, nature and ecological, art and creative, game and communicative competences.

During the workshop, the participants were persuaded in efficiency of interaction between teachers and learners based on omitting the example and giving the possibility to make experiments, using non-traditional means and techniques of art work.