
«The Youth in Changes: Education, Science and Projects»

On December, 19th, 2017 the first public seminar on the topic “The Youth in Changes: Education, Science and Projects” organized by the Scientific Society of Students, Post-graduates, Doctors and Young Scholars took place in Pedagogical Institute.

Guests of the event:

Yevhen Malezhyk (PhD in Physics and Mathematics, founder and supervisor of social network for scientists Science-Community.org);

Kateryna Sizonenko (Master student of speciality «Primary Education», winner of scientific contests of All-Ukrainian and International Levels, teacher of Kyiv private gymnasias «A+»);

Anastasiia Trofimchenko (Master student of speciality «Management», public activist, scholarship holder of Cabinet of Ministers of Ukraine, teacher of private Gymnasia «A+»).

Participants of the seminar were first-year students of specialities «Primary Education» and «Pre-school Education».

Different lifehacks in searching for international grants, educational and volunteering programs, sources of both personal and professional development were presented. While discussing participants paid attention on importance of being proactive and achieving desirable goals in different spheres and helping others to change the surrounding world for better.

We are grateful to our speakers and participants of the seminar for the discussion and good mood!