
Learning to work in a team

On September 17, 2019, within studying "University studies" lecturers of the Department of Primary Education G. L. Bondarenko and N. S. Kypychenko using the game "Team draughtsman" developed first-year students' skills of teamwork, interaction within the group and mini-group, the ability to determine group roles, negotiate, make a common decision, communicate, actively listen, quickly adapt to the change of tasks and places. Students of the specialty "Primary education" actively participated in the class. Students had the opportunity to diagnose and analyze the features of the academic group, to see how it interacts with each other, to control the dynamics of the group.

During the reflection, students expressed opinions about what helped them to perform the task, what hindered, what charged with positive emotions and inspiration!

The purpose of the event is to develop skills of teamwork, interaction within the group and mini-group; the ability to define group roles, negotiate, make a common decision, and communicate.

Moderator: G. L. Bondarenko, the head of the Department of Primary Education, Candidate of Pedagogical Sciences, Associate Professor; N.S. Kypychenko, Candidate of Pedagogical Sciences, senior lecturer of the Department of Primary Education