
Lapbook of professional success - 3

On April 6, 2019, teaching staff of the Department of Preschool Education has conducted psycho-educational training for employees of preschool education institutions "Lapbook of professional success-3". The participants discussed the formation of children`s emotional intelligence; organization of experimental activities in preschool education institutions; modern technologies of intellectual, physical and moral development of children. During the training, participants found non-standard ways and developed rules for effective communication with children; got acquainted with the most modern management technologies in the field of preschool education and the experience of European colleagues.

All participants received an electronic methodical case with training materials.

Event coordinator: Bielenka H. V., head of the Department of Preschool Education, Doctor of Pedagogical Sciences, professor.*