

Workshop "For the First Time to the First Form"

On March 9, 2021, the workshop "For the First Time to the First Form" was organised at the Center for Self-knowledge and Self-development for first-year students of the specialty "Primary Education". Its goal is to prepare future primary school teachers to establish partnership interaction in the primary school environment during their first educational (psychological and pedagogical) practice.

First-year students were interested in the advice of experienced teachers on how to organize effective communication with supervisors and primary schools students. Each student has created their own e-portfolio of personal and professional growth, which will be filled throughout the entire period of study at the University and used in further professional activities. Together we practised using diagnostic techniques ("Graphic Dictation" (D. Elkonin), the study of educational motivation (M. Hinsburg), "Tree with Little Men" (John and Diana Lampen) etc.) to study the individual characteristics of the student's development and further design of the individual development card.

We sincerely hope that all the students' worries are over, and only confidence and pleasant impressions are ahead!
